Once again we catch Greg Schwartz swinging down the halls - enjoying school.

▼ Dave Nidess gulps down the eggs to help the junior class in competition.

▲ Shannon Miller explains to friends; Nina Sabella, and Debbie Hammon, what exactly it is that she is eating.

► It is obvious that Dawn Saunders is not supposed to be hearing what is going on.

Tedious Routine Began

The alarms went off at an ungodly hour on September 9, 1986 as students fell out of bed to get ready for their first day back to school. For seniors this was to be their last first day of high school, while for the freshmen nerves were shaky. The year continued with fun filled days for all students.

Football games, dances, pep assemblies all added new dimensions to the school year of '87. Winning or losing with "Bear Pride", then jazzing it up with friends to the tunes in the gym. New faces, new friends cheering together with spirit and high hopes of what would come to be.

The Homecoming affair was glorious as usual. Our court in beautiful gowns with escorts equally dashing in fitted tuxes. The night of happiness and style. Some will also remember the money pouring out of their pockets in order for the classy style of Limosine service. The gayla event will never be forgotten.

The many hours studying, or trying to, will stay with us forever. The impossible assignments that were always due "first thing" the next day. Yet, no one could possibly start in class, we had too many friends to talk to or the cute guy in the corner we just had to get to know. Thus long nights were spent grueling over seemingly tedious homework. They always say "It'll pay off in the end," but I still say "we'll see!"

Bears Leave Our Mark

During the first few days of school, Caroline Robles and I were adjusting to the idea of being the Editors of this year's EL OROSO. Walking into a room filled with 22 students, all of whom expected us to know exactly what was going on at all times, we were overwhelmed.

The theme of this year's yearbook was thought about before school started but no theme had been set until about the 3rd week of school. We had a list of ideas for the theme and let the class vote on them. At first "We're Not Just Passin' Thru" did not go over as fantastically as we'd hoped. We then took one look at each other and said "Let's explain." We went through our idea, drawing on the board and stressing our point of view. Well, we sold our idea to the class within about a half hour.

"Each of us is special."

The Bears lead the way through the book and grow up along the way just as each of us have to "grow up" over the years at Warren. The "N" you see throughout the book symbolizes the arches that each of us will pass through on our Graduation Day.

I really hope that all the students of Warren High will understand and acknowledge the theme of this year's EL OROSO. We've tried to express the importance of each student's part at Warren. Each of us is special and has unique talents and therefore has contributed in some way to the make-up of our "Spirit." I hope that everyone will remember their days — and nights — at Warren and know that "We're Not Just Passin' Thru," ever, anywhere. We Bears always leave our mark.

We Must Push Harder

As one looks back through his or her years of high school, it always seems to bring to mind what kind of mark he or she may have left. As I look over my freshman, sophomore, and junior years up to my Senior year, there seems to be nothing more that stands out in my mind than when I was on the swimming team. It was in my sophomore year and I decided to invite my father to one of my swim meets. My event finally arrived — it was 50m freestyle. The gun fired and I dove into the warm pool of water. I could hear the support of the team telling me to push harder. I could see that the two lanes on each side of me contained my opponents. The three of us were neck and neck the entire race. The pivotal point of the race was coming, my kick turn, this is where I could either win or lose the race. We made our turns and still we were all swimming together. I could see our destination coming with each stroke, the winning point. Finally the winning point arrived, the three of us each touched the wall with all other swimmers coming in later. I lifted my head out of the water to find out I had co-won my event by fingertips. Now, each time I walk by the pool I remember that event. It was the day I made my mark as a Warren "Bear."

"I won my event by fingertips."

We're Not Just Passin' Thru

Back to school with new friends and teachers to look forward to. We wandered through the halls smiling and laughing knowing that the school year of 1986-87 was going to be a BLAST! Shouting to friends down the halls "hey, how was your summer?", "long time no see", "did you lose my phone number? or what?" Getting back together with old friends and meeting new ones was probably the best part of the first few days.

The teachers are also people that we look forward to meeting. Most kids try to find the easy way out of a hard class by getting a less strict teacher.

Who do you have for Algebra I?

I took Busby, who ever that is, my sister had her and said she's an easy grader.

Hah your sister sure has you fooled Often opinions of teachers are formed on the very first day. "Perretta sure seems like a strict one"

Amerkanian seems pretty cool
After adjusting back to the system of going to school from 7:50 am until 2:35 the days rolled into weeks and time slipped by. Good times and bad were shared by all students.

Time may have slipped by but no student was just passing thru. Each made his mark on the school just by being a unique student.

Over the four years spent in high school many parts of our lives are effected. the friends, the growth in knowledge, the teachers, the legality to drive (et cetera) were all made possible because of Warren. Each student at Warren also makes this mark upon the school through sports, academics, drama (et cetera). As you turn these pages you will find that no student is JUST PASSING THRU.

way out"

All Become Special

There are many aspects of life that we as teenagers become involved with. Often these include activities related to school, but other activities which are often considered outside hobbies make up Student Life as well. These various activities include sports, pep clubs, drama, work and academics as well as family outings just to name a few. Each one in some way takes part in the memories of the special days. The memories will be with us forever, the pep assemblies, games, dances, hours at work parties, etc. They all become special nights and days of our life. The good days and the bad have gone by. The support of friends and teachers have helped us through them all. But some especially stand out in our minds.

The night we literally ran into the cutest guy while wearing the scummiest outfit

The day we were late to our essay exam in English and yet were allowed no breaks. The deadline yearbook was supposed to make, but didn't

The day mom gave you the keys to her car and said be home by 11:30

It's the day before Homecoming and you still haven't been fitted for your dress

The biggest after game dance of the year but your mom won't let you go because you didn't bring the car home until 12:00

Yes, we've made it through the year and for some lucky ones more years lie ahead. All these activities combine to form what is called Student Life which is in general how each student lives and learns to grow up

"Each one takes part... in the memories"

Emerald Evening At Castaways

C~~astaways were found everywhere as the 1986 Court and students soc~~ ~~their Homecoming Dance at the Castaways Restaurant in Burbank. The~~ ~~ballroom was called the Starlight and it was literally lighted by the stars~~
~~backdrop for the pictures were the beautiful trees and starlit sky. All the guys and~~

~~floor as the theme song "Hold You" by OMD was played. Penny Wescott and~~ ~~Scott Biehn also added a special effect to the evening by singing their song. All the~~

~~was also the color for the dance. Many guys wore tails to "Put on the Ritz".~~ ~~Fancy imosines also made the evening seem like a dream. The four hours flew~~

Dressing Up Is Fun To Do

Halloween is a time to have fun and dress up. It's a time to let your imagination run wild. You can be anything you want to be. You can be a princess, a superhero, or even a zombie. It's all about having fun and being creative. So put on your costume and get ready to have a great time!

Victory Celebrated Before The Game Is Really Won

It was that time of year, the rivalry was starting all over again and the excitement was rising.

Tuesday, the first of the four dress-up days was Western Day. The turnout was fairly good but the best was yet to come. Wednesday was the day of the shirt contest. Thursday (just about everyone) dressed up in their best DORM Day and also the day of the big competition. Friday was the day to watch the cheerleaders (and the boys) play squash! SENIORS WERE THE WINNERS!

Mr. Keeler, the coach of the boys' team, hopes we wanted to win. "The boys are almost positive that the DORMS will win."

All in all, the week went great and the competition ended. And why shouldn't they? After all, it's only a game.

Some of the

No Blitz, Or Snow Blitz?

The night was December 12, 1985 and we had our Snow Blitz dance which had in the cafeteria (a new twist). Most of us arrived around 9:00, even though the dance started at 8:00, many of us then stayed until the end 11:00. Once you came into the dance you found the "cafeteria" looking very Christmas spruced up. Most people waited in line for about thirty minutes to have pictures taken by Pace Studios. The ticket of admission was $10, and the pictures about $15. The attendance of the dance was 200 people (at one time or another). For those of us who stayed and danced, we were greeted by Santa Claus (Will Nash's father).

It was the traditional "girl ask guy" dance, so many of us girls found ourselves taking our dates to dinner. It seems as if the saying "all girls think alike" should be used instead of "vice-versa", in the case of dinner reservations. Many of us found that Spoons, El Torro, Black Angus, and Flucky Jakes in Cerritos were "bombed" by Warren students all enjoying dinner. Downey High also had their dance the same night, so we were sharing the company with our "rivals" which made for an interesting evening.

All and all everyone enjoyed Snowblitz. And for those of us who doubled, tripled, etcetera, the night was fun and memorable as usual.

"Oh ChemAsTree" Takes Door Decision

Once again Student Council held the annual Door Decorating Contest. This contest is very popular with students and teachers alike. Once again Mr. Carters class snaked the top prize by bribing Student Council with candy canes and a wild rendition of "O Chem as Tree O Chem as Tree" sung to the tune of "O Tannenbaum". Other sparkly prize winners were won by the OH class for the cutest door and T1 received the prize for most original.

There were so many good doors to choose from that the decision was hard to make. Even our own yearbookers and newspaper people came up with their version of Christmas with a totemy fireplace on the door of J1 inspired of deadlines. Somehow, even though it comes the last week before Christmas vacation, the contest kicks off the holiday season here at Warren.

True Friends

True Friend

There are many people that we meet in our lives but only a very few will make a lasting impression on our minds and hearts
It is these people that we will think of often and who will always remain important to us
as a true friend

Tammy Allaway and Evelyn Pardinas have known each other for five years. They say their favorite things to do are laugh and make idiots out of themselves.

Debbie Canning, Kim Brown, Diane Romero and Wendy Brown met each other at church. They have been friends for about three years and their favorite things to do together are go dancing, people watch, and count the minutes till they get to go home from school.

Seen here are Rhonda Appert, Sophi Wiest, Debbi Murray, Julie Parabaniuk, and April Simmons. Their favorite thing to do together is go out.

Dean Inmon and Steve Sims met in Mr. Griswold's 9th grade metals class and have been friends all four years of high school.

Sadie Goes "Rhinestone Cowboy"

It's 6:00 p.m. and Millie and I are running around trying to get ready by 6:30 (the time we were supposed to pick up the guys.) Well it's 7:00 we didn't quite make it, oh well first stop Carlos' house Whew Carlos was ready! Now on to Troy's house. Troy was ready to (thank God!!!) Well after taking hundreds of pictures of each other we were off to dinner. Millie and I decided to take the guys to Frudruckers for dinner girls treat after all Sadie's is a girl ask guy dance. Dinner was yummy!!!! Now finally off to the dance. The dance started at 8:00 and ended at 11:00. We arrived about 9:15 everyone was dancing and looked like they were having a good time. Everyone had matching shirts with their dates or were dressed alike. Billy Cordero and Treigh Graves looked the cutest in their overalls with patches and straw hats.

After we got our pictures taken, we decided to "get married" So first Troy and I got hitched. Then Millie and Carlos got hitched. After we were married we were off to the kissing booth Troy and I went first then Carlos and Millie went in. The bad thing aboul it was you were timed — ya only got 1 minute!!!! Now off to the dance floor-Troy and Carlos were a crack up. They got all crazy! Troy was swinging me all around

I think that Sadies was a great dance this year, in fact I think that it was the funnest dance that we have ever had at Warren High in the four years that I've gone here

Working for an Extra Buck

SHORTLY after we became established we were adrift in life, so to speak. As we grew and changed so did our tastes. In the beginning, usually, most people had little time to think about their needs and wants. In order to earn a decent living the hunt began. The first stop was always the fast food place. The "burgerslapping" isn't the only reason for the popularity of much desired. Better positions often require more experience and more education. On the job training might be available or selected establishments. Some find a job to be self satisfying and rewarding. It teaches one how to work for other and with others. It can also be very rewarding. The real satisfaction comes from the fact that you have helped another person with their problems. Not everyone does this, though. Some just want to earn some extra money and hold a part time job. I am no exception, I am just like the happy workers of W.W.H.J.

After dinner at 8:00, Thespians head for 2nd Ave!

On October 1 1986 the Warren High Drama Department under the expert direction of Mrs. Emerson began rehearsals for its productions of "Dinner at Eight" and "Prison of Secs." "Dinner at Eight" was performed first February 17 20. The play can be best summed up as "the" The minor rolls portrayed the slap stick type of comedy where as most of the major roles were played more serious. The over all concept of the production dealt with the fact that a wealthy woman was having a dinner party for a wealthy couple she didn't particularly like and in the end they didn't show up. There were other components such as bigamy and wife bearing that were made humorous. Then there was divorce and suicide that added drama and suspense to make the play cut received by the audience.

The second production "Prisoner of Second Avenue," written by Neil Simon, was directed by Mark Keller. It was a lighter and more humorous comedy than the first. It was about a man and wife that were driven crazy by the fast moving pace of Manhattan. The struggles they faced were very real and although the family offered to help they were able to work out their own problems leaning on each other. It was a terrific production.

The theme Heaven in '87, was taken from a store window that would be a good idea for a dance. Well, it seemed to work just fine!

The dance was held in the gym and student council members did a good job decorating. Styrofoam moons and stars along with white balloons hung above the crowd's heads as they danced and had fun. Everyone seemed to be having a good time because our favorite D.J.'s Ty and Mirch were there to provide the entertainment for the dance. Pace was there to take pictures and to take advantage of that, about 20 seniors jumped in all together to take a group picture. Other students found Heaven in another way. On March 13th many students gave blood. As we spoke to the students, we found out that before giving blood an overwhelming fear hit them. This queasiness was even greater after the blood was actually taken. Each student now agrees that it was all worth it because they were helping to save lives.

All in all I think that everyone will agree that it really was Heaven in '87!!!

Chris Livingston has his ear pricked to determine his blood type.

Derek Hauser and friends show their battle wounds.

Exploring Similar Interests

Do you want to do something that benefits others? Do you like to have fun? If the answer to these questions is "Yes," then Warren has a club for you!

There are enough clubs on campus so everyone can find one that suits his/her needs. There are service clubs, sports related clubs, journalism clubs, science clubs, and many more.

Almost every club member can say that they have had fun and shared many memories. The friends one can make through joining a club are often long lasting. They are "friendships bound at Warren High."

"Friendships bound at Warren High."

These clubs not only unite as families, but they also work together to help each other. The Downey Community Service Clubs put in a certain number of hours each month to help others in the community. Journalism works to help the students and faculty. One of the most important groups-SADD benefits all residents of Downey.

Clubs offer a time for fun and a service to their community. The students and advisors involved really make their mark through their efforts.

The French Club usually meets every other Thursday with our advisor, Mrs. Dalmau. This is the first year that the French Club has been a part of Warren. It was started up to understand the French culture and to practice speaking the language. We have had Christophe, an exchange student from France, come in and speak to the class and tell about his life style. We also play games and have fund raisers. We all thought it would be a new idea and it turned out to be successful. At the end of the year, we plan to go to a French restaurant with the money we have made. The French Club is a new club but a good one.

CSF Tops In Their Field

For three years I wanted to be on CSF. Everyone else in my family had graduated as seal bearers but, because I liked to have fun, my grades were always lacking. Actually, it was not so much that my grades were low, but that I never took the time to sign up.

At the end of my sixth semester my grades were good enough and in September I took the time to sign up for CSF. Being on Senior CSF has really helped me. Mrs. Orsinger has taken the time to help us with choosing a college, filling out applications, and writing essays. We are always kept up to date on new techniques and scholarship opportunities.

We are not only an honors club, but a group of friends that are very close. Each of us share new ideas and help each other to learn. We enjoy each others company at various activities and little parties.

I am really glad that I can finally say that I am a proud member of Warren High's Senior class California Scholarship Federation.

Mortar And Pestle Stir Up Interest

MORTAR AND PESTLE Club sponsored by Mr. Rice consists of chemistry and physics laboratory assistances and AP Chemistry students. These students promote interest in chemistry and physics by taking part in science competitions, planning field trips, demonstrating experiments to various science classes and helping answer beginning chemistry and physics student's questions. This dedicated group has been invaluable to the continued success of Warren High in local, state and national science competitions. The members of the Mortar and Pestle Club are a true service to the science department and to the school.

Vocal Ensemble is a group of people picked from the larger concert choir. They are some of the better singers picked for their voice quality as well as blend. The music sung is more difficult than the other Choir's. The best part about singing is the fun they have, with practices, and each other.

Vocal Ensemble meets on week nights from seven to nine. They may not always have the time to practice, but in the time they do have, they accomplish much.

STUDENT COUNCIL MAKES IT HAPPEN!

Every semester of every year certain individuals are selected to represent the students here at Warren High School. These individuals are the ones who make up student council. Student council is composed of some 15 officers; all A.S.B. officers and all individual class presidents and representatives.

A student who runs for an office must first receive 50 signatures on his petition sheet. By doing this, the individual becomes eligible for candidacy. Candidates may then campaign with signs, stickers, and speeches to win votes from the student body. The voting process usually takes two weeks. During this time candidates are eliminated until a few are left. Students then vote for the winning candidates.

Every student council officer has certain individual duties and responsibilities to withhold, but the main duties of each member are to promote school spirit, maintain desirable student activities, and represent the student body.

Led by A.S.B. President Julie Self and Robert Baca, plus the advisorship of Mr. "Papa Joe" Francis, student council accomplished many events for the whole student body. Such activities this year were: After game dances, Homecoming, Food Drive, Assemblies, Dress-up days, Downey/Warren week, Blood Drive, Music during lunch, All school breakfast, Class Competitions, Student Summit Meetings, Pep Assemblies, A.S.B. Elections, All School Candy Sale, and Senior Prom.

Being part of student council has been an experience I'll never forget. Last Year, as Junior Class President, I realized its responsibilities as time consuming but fun. I enjoyed helping out with the many activities during my Junior year especially when I was in charge of The Blood Drive along with Missy Migdal. This year as 2nd Semester Senior Class President I had my responsibilities; Senior Activities, Prom, Baccalaureate, and Graduation. When I was elected president I knew that the students elected me having faith that I would do a good job. I tried my best and I hope that those who elected me are satisfied.

So, I would like to say "thank you" to the Senior Class for giving me the opportunity to learn through student council

El Oroso, Justice Staff Work For You

The El Oroso and The Justice publications are two of the most important organizations on campus. The responsibility of the two publications are ones of "ever lasting memories." Yearbook can count on the fact that at least every 10 years our book will be pulled out of the shelf and the pages will be flipped to reminisce for class reunions. The Newspaper is a monthly product that brings us the controversial world issues and the problems and achievements of our school.

If people have had the chance to experience one of these two publications, they'd know how time consuming it is to be involved. The Justice does its best to give their readers the sense of knowing what it is going on at Warren. In order to accomplish this on an annual budget of $1200.00, they go to the Journalism Education Association convention twice a year. They have many deadlines and days when classes are missed to go to "The Print Shop." El Oroso has found themselves every 2 weeks at school on a Saturday (8:00am till whenever) deadlining. We also attend a Yearbook Camp during the summer trying to figure the best way to utilize $36,000.00 to make a good book.

The "trials and tribulations", that the staffs go through all year long do not go without being noticed. We have done our best to bring our Student Body something to look back on and remember. Like the 1st picture in the yearbook, or the time your name was mentioned in the Justice for your accomplishment. We hope that this yearbook and all the copies of the Justice remain special for you throughout the years to come.

We Are Devoted

Les Devouees is one of the two girls service clubs on campus here at Warren. Some of our objectives have been to promote better school citizenship and spirit and to help assist in both school and community activities. So far first semester we've helped in the annual Downey Fireman vs. Policeman game, the city's home tours and we've caroled at retirement homes.

This year we started out with a new advisor, Mrs. Camacho. She has been really supportive of all we do.

Overall, this year has been fun while we've all had to learn that it does require some dedication and cooperation, it's been rewarding when we do accomplish the things we've set out to do.

We have also made a few trips to the local mountains for night skiing, which is much colder than day skiing but is just as much fun.

To top off a great year, the last trip of the year will have been a five day trip to Lake Tahoe. If you missed out on all the fun this year, be sure to get involved next year.

By being involved in the band and the auxiliary squads, I have had many fun times while building lasting friendships. We all work together as a team and spend many hours practicing, performing, and having great time together.

I have played flute in the band for five years and in my senior year became a member of the Tall Flag Squad. It takes many hours of practice to play an instrument.

Last summer, the auxilliary teams went to camp to prepare for the football season. Besides learning new skills and routines, the girls became closer and shared their feelings. I've met so many people and have enjoyed sharing so much, because of what I've received in return.

It takes a lot of patience, dedication, and hard work to be in band or on a squad, but the memories of the wonderful times and friends you meet make it all worthwhile.

Mr. Naylor has been more than just a director. He's been a very special and caring person, willing to spend so much of his time and give so much of himself to help others.

Strive For Excellence

Bill Sprouton, our Principal, heads the second ABSSI Staff Development Planning Team that Larry Rice got off the ground when no one thought we'd have a prayer to gain an additional three years of State funding after the three year stint for Computer Literacy was up. But we did, and now in its second year, the Staff Development cycle is well under way. Peggy Anatol, Assistant Principal, works with the planning team consisting of Dianne C. Richo, Ann Courtney, Paul Davis, John Henning, Cheryl Kennedy, and Larry Rice to come up with the range of activities that the staff has been exposed to throughout the two years. In addition to the Warren based and Warren initiated ABSSI, our Mentors are working on curriculum writing, State project implementation such as the new P.E. requirements K-12, presentations for others such as the County, and a special District project to introduce the profession of teaching to 11th and 12th grade students. Other teachers have been actively involved in drug education implementation and suicide prevention, and Advanced Placement management, along with the on going concern of "simply" educating young people to the peak level of their competence in whatever area of the curriculum. Warren can be very proud of its staff - not just because we beat Downey in this year's football contest - because our business is education and we go about that business well in an atmosphere of teamwork that allows us to challenge any competitor to a tough, fair, and greatly satisfying contest. Warren teachers are remembered by graduates as the best and we are because "We're Not Just Passin' Thru." We go about our daily chores as professionals inside and outside our classrooms.

FACULTY

▲ During the Cooperative Learning exercise at the October 16 ABSSI Day Lynn Lingenfelter, Kim Hayes, and Murdoch Fraser have to complete four individual puzzles from mixed pieces and without talking to each other - not easy for teachers.

Working on the Faculty section wasn't as easy as we thought it would be. It took a great deal of time and patience. We had to come up with a good page design that would work for the teachers and staff. We spent hours working on our layouts which meant spending hours together; but we can say this much, it was great working in the Faculty section in spite of any difficulties we experienced.

The Fall session of full day staff development was held at the lovely Los Amigos Country Club On October 16. Time To Evaluate

The Modified Day before the Winter recess allowed time for evaluation and direction. It also allowed for a relaxed time to visit old friends in returning guests to the Christmas Breakfast.

Without the people who really run our main, attendance or guidance offices, or keep the site together by directing the custodial staffs and co-ordinating with District personnel, or are there to take care of our various ills, students, teachers and administrators would be lost — and a staff development program of any kind would be moot. My underclass years are over and I stop to think of my

Senior Year Ahead

The high school years of my life are now coming to an end. How could time pass so fast? These were the years that I waited for so long and now they're almost gone. Now my underclass years are over and my last year, my Senior year, lies ahead. It is interesting to think of what I hoped for, dreamed of and gained through these years.

I remember in my freshman year, I hoped to make so many new friends. I wanted to have freedom with my friends and go out with them. I wanted my curfew extended and my parents to realize that I was already an adult — after all my license was just around the corner.

Then a few more years rolled by and I dreamt of things which I yet wanted to happen. Having friends was fine, but now I would daydream of the special guy I would run into in the hall, and how he would just happen to be there every time I turned around. Then because he wanted to be with me as much as I wanted to be with him, we could work on homework together, go out together, and just have a great time.

Now, I look back at my hopes and dreams and what I have gained. I don't think I could write down all of the wonderful things

I have gained from Warren, but I'm positive I have received a fine education. I feel prepared to tackle my Senior year and equipped for any university. But in looking back at what I wanted,

I see I did gain those friends I wished for. I have added many good friends to my wonderful list of old ones — and in the case of the special guy, he's all mine.

So, I feel I have gained many meaningful things during my high school years at Warren. Thanks Warren!

It takes a lot of hard work and patience to do underclass section in the yearbook. Naming all the students and finding their grades is a difficult task. But in the end it all pays off with a beautiful yearbook.

And we'd like to thank all those of you who put in extra time and energy to make this section a success.

▲ Laughing is something freshmen need to learn to do

The way I look inside and out have changed since coming to Warren. First of all, when I come to school it's really important to me that I look my best each and every day. If I have an outfit that I really like, I wear it on a day I feel good. There are some days when I'm tired and I get up late and I just come to school lazy looking. It has also changed the way I look inside. I have learned to accept the things that I never could have before. I have accepted the fact to be more understanding. I have to be able to be smart enough to do my homework. One important aim of mine is to always stand up for what I believe is right, to never believe what anyone else is saying unless I know it's true. High school has taught me mainly to be more calm. I used to be really hyper. In addition, I may not always listen, but when I do, I try to learn and understand. School is very important and it's good to get an education. You'll need it in the future.

Friendships are very important also. You need friends to stand by you when you need help. Friends are caring, trustworthy, and special. Whenever I lose a friend, I have a great deal of hurt inside me and I'll try to earn their friendship back. School is my future. Coming to school is never boring to me. I get to work (which isn't always fun) and visit with some of my favorite friends.

High school has changed by life in many ways — some I like, some not; some drastic, some not so drastic. The best change for me was meeting so many new people. Middle school is so small and sheltered and suddenly — WHAM! you're out in the "big" world. I'm the type of person though that will strike up a conversation with perfect strangers. Using this technique, I have gotten to know a lot of people I would have not dreamed of meeting and eventually, striking up friendships with them. Another change I was in favor of, was my parents allowing me more freedom. Unlike the previous years, the answer is (almost) always, "Yes." "Yes, you may go to the party" (or concert). "Yes, you may stay out to twelve." or "Yes, you may go out driving with Jack" (or Jill). The saddest change for me though was losing the will to keep in touch with the old crowd. They, like me, are discovering new people and "cuter guys" and "cuter girls." But soon when everybody is done exploring, things will get back to normal. It's always happened and it will continue to happen — people grow and people change. These among other things too numerous to mention, are how Warren has changed by life for the better.

In The "I" Rat!

Adults call the teenage years the happy carefree years. But at the same time adults are trying to teach me what they call "responsibility." It's probably the new beginning of the hardest years of my life. I think Warren has already taught me that. Soon after I entered, it seemed as if all my worries were thrust upon me at once. There are lots of pressures and strains involved. It's an institution where teenagers gather to be prepared for a better tomorrow, but it seems that if you want a ulcer, attend high school. There is a tremendous amount of pressure, and sometimes I feel as if I bare the whole world on my shoulders. High school is the basis of it all. It's where you start to realize that there is competition out there and if you want to be on top, you have to work for the guts and then you'll get the glory. Especially since I'm a Korean-American, surrounded by American people, I can't be intimidated by them. I have to prove to them as well as to myself that I can survive and come out on the top. When I've reached my goal I feel proud that I'm Korean and that I've represented my people well. Warren has also taught me to be myself, my own individual. I have learned to accept my problems as they are and solve them, not run away from them. I also have to stick to my guns. I have to take each day as it comes not plan each day because it will probably not work out. I'm not pampered any more. I'm out there now with the rat race and I hope I'm the "No. 1" rat. I either make it or I don't. The harsh realities of life are soon going to face me and I just hope I can make it! Watch out world. It is my turn!

Creatures of habit is what we have become. Going to classes by the bell and knowing enough to walk in, sit down, and be quiet (at least for a short time.) Now that we're mature grown-ups (according to the teachers), we have to have enough responsibility to complete our work on time, not a week later, and be to class before the bell sounds off. School is our life after all. Wouldn't you get bored with day after day of freedom? You would soon get sick of everything you do. If we want to grow up to be anything besides our Kindergarten dreams of being a fireman or nurse, we've got to work for it. That is going to school then college. I wouldn't be writing this if I hadn't gone to school, I would be an illiterate child. School has affected me intellectually (of course) and socially. New friends add to your old middle school companions. Although ninth grade is the "trash and babies" of the school we still have enough courage to go on against those "tough 'n bossy" seniors. It is your first year of the dreaded high school, yet the last school you'll HAVE to go to. Just think, all us ninth graders will be graduating in four years — just four years. Not very long, huh? Just hope you can survive year after year of homework!! It's a game of survival. The toughest get the "A's" the weakest get the "F's". Now what will you be?

All The Fun Begins With Freshman

High school has given me quite a few ideas of how life on our own would be like. The first days of school were tough and unfriendly. I was confused and lacked confidence in myself. Gradually, I adapted to the high school atmosphere and regained my confidence. Warren High's environment seems more pleasant than I thought it was. Though I was confused and had varieties of mixed feelings, I coped with my feelings and made the best I could out of Warren High. New places are a "toughy" at the beginning, but if you just reach out and look on brighter sides your problems usually will clean up and the future will be brighter.

I thought of studies mainly when I first arrived at high school. I knew I had to work hard in order to get good grades. So I did, but as I looked around the campus I saw many people laughing, chatting and really having a good time. I try to have the best time I can now, with more friends and more activities if I can. So far, Warren High has been good to me. I wouldn't consider it to be great though. I guess the freshman year is the year where all the fun begins, and gets better in the next years. There is more to life than just studying. There are so many more things to do, like enjoying time with a friend or a couple of friends. Having good friends is important in high school. They make life more full and more worthwhile. Making the best of things and having fun are what I experienced in Warren High.

Going to high school wasn't as bad as I thought it was going to be. It was even worse. I know and pray each day that it will get better as my four high school years go by, but right now I'm wishing I was an 8th grader back in middle school. The reason that Warren has effected me in such a negative way so far is that although there aren't many, the changes are BIG. Speaking of big, have you seen the large amount of homework I take home each day, let alone the books. Another thing is that I never seem to have much fun. If I act foolish (which is often) the upperclassmen look down on me saying, "What a freshman!" Have they already forgotten what it was like to start a new life in the intimidating wall of the big "W". Every little thing seems so different. If it's not the too long lunch line, it's the 12:34 bell. I'm not saying that high school doesn't have positive effects, because it does. I've met new people from West and gotten reacquainted with some I haven't seen for a couple of years. Being a high school student can prove to be a hard, responsible task. It can also be a thrilling experience if you want it to be, and that's what I'm going to try to do.

Finally, after dreaming about what high school would be like for as long as I could remember, I am here. Warren is certainly not what I expected. Attending high school has definitely shaped my life. Being a freshman is no easy job. I was used to being an 8th grader and the oldest at the school. Now I'm the lowest of the low — a dreaded ... 9th grader! Of course, since high school is more demanding academically, it is more stressful for me. I have to worry about my grades more because now I have to do well because I'd like to be able to get into the college of my choice. One of the bad aspects of high school is the tiredness I feel because of lack of sleep. I go to bed late because of homework and get up earlier because school is further away and even starts ten minutes before it did in middle school. There are, however, many activities that I like about Warren. It's fun and interesting and I get to take a foreign language. There are football games and dances. I'm finally a "Bear" and I suppose I should enjoy it because these are supposed to be the "best years of my life!"

Lunch Line Upset

Ty Henshaw, Ali Guadarrama, and Cindy Chiappatine are on their way to another boring class

High school, has it changed me or deranged me? I ask that to myself every morning when I wake up. Am I learning something in high school, or am I just being a rubber dummy for seniors to play with? I like high school very much; although I like to fool around sometimes, most of my work is serious during class. I respect my teachers and my fellow students, well most of them at least. I try my hardest in every class and always aim for the top. Besides the educational concept of school I also use common sense to survive in the school quad, you know it's a jungle out there! Warren has offered me many things to survive in the real world like Typing and Spanish I. These new electives help me to get a job that requires one or the other (well I hope I get to use my typing skills more because sometimes Spanish totally confuses me!). Although I have many school friends from my old middle school, Griffiths, I have made many new friends from West, both boys and girls. Yeah, girls too! Classes in Warren are very interesting too because in some classes there are sophomores, juniors and even seniors. Then finally there is the most gruesome thing of all in high school, no it's not the bathrooms, it's the lunch lines!!!! You get into lines for lunch and you're lost! Helloooooo, anybody there. There are so many kids everywhere from a middle school of 500 to a high school of 2000 — it's like a belt in the head with a quarter inch pipe. Well I have to get back to my high school stuff like getting my clothes, mousse, hairspray, gel, mace, police baton and other things for the next day

Scott Edgeworth and a friend don't seem to happy about having their picture taken.

This past summer, I was dreading the coming school year at Warren because I would be going in as a freshman—the “little guys,” the “low-life.” Then, out of the blue, came Sept. 9, the first day of school and believe it or not, I had fun. Being a freshman isn’t so bad. Sure you’re the youngest but don’t sweat! You won’t be there forever. In fact, there will come a time in your life years and years from now when you’ll wish you were fourteen or fifteen again.

High school has been a big change. It’s a bigger school. There are a lot more people, and worst of all a lot more homework. I find myself going to bed later and spending less time with friends after school, but hey, that’s what weekends are for.

I think I’m going to enjoy my four years here at Warren, and I’m sure those years will leave me with many great memories.

Warren has effected my life in many ways. Each year you are meeting new people and new teachers. It is interesting to meet different types of people. The teachers here, at Warren, are making sure they do the best they can to help you "expand your knowledge." We have football, volleyball, basketball, etc., so you can either join or come and cheer your team to a victory. After football or basketball games, there are dances. Usually you get a bunch of your friends to go with you to these dances. On one side of the gymnasium you see a bunch of guys and on the other side are all the girls. I remember the first day of school as a freshman, I was nervous and a little frightened. Then there was the first day of school as a sophomore. I was by then used to the crowded halls and standing in the lunch lines for about fifteen minutes before ordering your food only to find out that there are no more cheeseburgers or whatever else. There are so many pep rallies, dress up days, and hours filled with bundles of spirit that really add to making our school what it is. Downey/Warren week is usually the most outgoing week of the year. You cannot wait 'till Friday to go to that football game. I think even the football players are a little nervous because there is so much pressure of beating our rival. Being a sophomore at Warren High School is a fantastically fun, exciting, and even struggling experience, but no matter what the hardships are that we must overcome, the results always seem to be worth it.

Before I even got here, Warren affected my life. In eighth grade all I could think was of attending Warren and how my life was going to change. What a change! It wasn't anything I expected. It wasn't all fun and games. I just realized I only have two years of high school left and I have to work my hardest to make them my best. But Warren's not all work, no fun. I've had the best of times these past two years. Warren has made my life more sociable. Since my freshman year I have doubled my amount of friends. Now as I am in my sophomore year I not only have my previous friends but I've met a lot of new freshman friends too. Warren has affected my life, not for the worst but for the best. I still have a long way to go in life. I have prepared myself for the future with mistakes made in the past. Warren has been a big change in my life.

Learning Is A Special Treat

Being in school as a proud student is better than feeling I spent my youthful years locked up in school. Warren being a very respected school has effected my life in many ways especially in the education department. Having a 3.8 GPA helped me progress rapidly trying to learn everything possible that came my way. Learning has been a special treat. Warren helped me learn more and added to my chances of getting a great career for my future. Warren has really been a great part in my life. Along with education, Warren has effected me physically. It has made me more healthy and more aware of my body for I have discovered that keeping in shape is very important to me and for those who seek a better health condition. Warren helped and affected me in many other areas but the most important thing that this school has given me is spirit. Watching a Warren football game cheered me on for my proud school. School spirit is very important for students who seek many rewards that this school has to offer.

Warren Welcomes A Stranger

I came to Warren in the middle of my freshman year. I moved from Westminster. It was quite a traumatic time. I lived there for three years, so I had collected many friends. When my parents announced that we were moving I begged and pleaded but moving was still the answer. When we moved to Downey I had no friends or any people my age to talk to. When I had to go enroll in school and attend I was scared to death. The students in my classes and around campus made me feel like

I belonged and I was welcomed here at Warren. It only took a short while for me to feel at home. I am really glad we moved because Warren is so much better; the people and the school itself.

Now Freshmen Can Be Friends

Going to Warren High School for the past two years has been a great experience. The memories and friends will last forever. I always wanted to go to Warren since I was little and now that I'm here I've come to really like it and feel that I'm a part of the school. It has given me many things that I could go on and on about but mainly I've met new people. I love to meet and keep friends because I think that's important. When the people from West and Griffiths started to get to know each other, it was super; we had double the friends. Then there was always the older people that you could become friends with. Now there's the younger people as in the "freshmen." Going here I've had my share of bad days but I've had more good than bad days. I love the school, the people, and, yes, sometimes I can even relate to some of the teachers. I'll always remember going to Warren and probably say "I remember the good old days when I went to W.H.S" just like our parents—or at least mine say. But I know one thing for certain when I'm older I want to come back sometime and see the "Bears" beat the "Ducks" of Downey High once again.

TIt was the hot summer of 1984 when I first saw this huge school after graduating from Griffiths Junior High School. I did not notice any awesome or special features of this school, then, but now it is different. This school is my future. My success in later years are dependent upon how well I achieve my goals here. Warren gives me friends, education, and growth of social knowledge. Warren is providing comfort in education, which I think is very important to students. I am building my basic knowledge for my life here. Everybody knows that Warren is one of the best schools around the mid-cities. Maybe that's why so many people are willing to come here. If Warren was one of those schools where dozens of security guards were needed to control the campus, I would not have the education I have now.

There were two great achievements or effects I got from Warren. First is the joy of playing sports I like. When I wear the Warren uniform and win for the school, I feel great. Coaches have taught me important tactics which improved my skills. The second most important effect was the academic achievement. Mrs. Busby and Mr. Hunt (I) were the tough teachers, who taught me how to study, how to improve my grades, how to listen to teachers and how to take notes. Sometimes I hated them for too much work, but now thank them. Warren High School, I think, has some of the best teachers. The effects of Warren on me means a lot and will never forget it.

Warren has had a lot of effects on me, most of them positive. My first two years here I was a bit lazy and didn't really care what happened as long as I graduated. As the years went by, I heard more and more people talking about college. I really never considered myself college material. My parents were almost forcing me to go. They always said, "You can do whatever you want as long as you go to college." That to me didn't seem too fair, but I had no say in the matter. Then I finally realized that I wanted to go without being forced. Warren has really helped with this problem. The teachers really work to help you. I feel proud to be graduating from such a good school with a great reputation. This should help a lot in getting into college. These are the effects Warren has had on me, and I'm privileged to be going here.

None of Us Are Different

Ever since I've been here at Warren I can see many changes in my friends and myself. When we were freshmen we thought we were cool because we were in high school. Then we became sophomores and didn't care about a thing in the world. Now that we're juniors we figure we're too big to be told what to do and I'm sure that seniors feel the same way. But as I look around Warren I see different groups of people where none of us are different. We're all the same. No one's better or prettier than anyone else. We're all equal and we better enjoy it here because pretty soon it's all going to be just a bunch of memories in the back of our minds.

FRIENDSHIPS! It's an important word. If you were to elaborate on it, and take it a step further by saying "Relationships" that is what has been important to me in my years spent here at Warren. You only spend four years in high school and you learn so much more than you realize at the moment. Here at Warren I believe that I've "grown up" a lot where other peoples feeling are concerned. Learning to care for other people beside myself, realizing that they have feelings and needs also, has been an important growth experience. I hope that my special friendships I have come upon in my years here in Warren remain many long and happy years into the future. It not, I definitely have grand memories that will last a lifetime.

Many Opportunities Gained

Warren High School has and will play a great part in my life. I guess it's like anybody's high school, it's just never forgotten. I feel Warren has helped and guided me through a great many things. It has kind of nursed me through growing up and changing over from a boy to a young man. Warren has given me opportunities and things to look forward to later in life. It has effected me both academically and physically. I have played some sports and the programs offered are great. In my opinion though, it's the people, such as the administrators, teachers, and coaches that make the school what it is. I feel my high school will effect the rest of my life. The way I act and conduct myself will reflect what kind of high school I went to. To sum it up, the effects Warren has had on me have been educational as well as beneficial.

This school provides me with a valuable learning experience. It prepares me for that certain goal which I want to achieve when I graduate high school. From day to day, this learning experience can have varying frustration, confusion, excitement and happiness. One tends to get lost at times, but other times you feel proud of yourself when receiving a high mark on a test. Working hard during high school is most likely to pay off in the long run. All in all, Warren works very hard in providing us students with a most memorable learning experience which we will need to further our future dreams and goals.

Time has come for each of us to step

Apart From The Rest

We entered high school in 1983, we knew not what to expect, frightened little youngsters pushing and shoving our way through the crowds. We gradually adjusted to the new ways of life and weeks no, years-went quickly by.

We never thought our senior year would come But now it has come and past and only the memories will last

The friends we have met over the years have made all the difference in the world. "We've fought, complained cried, been bored, laughed, and teased, and joked a lot," states Kirstie Stramler. The many hours spent together have been filled with various events — some good some bad

The teachers have also helped us on our way. They have, in some respects, made us "grow up." The unending homework assignments and major exams were to prepare us for the future

The many teachers have taught us all that they know, and we have absorbed what we could. The teachers have not just been instructors, but also have been friends

Now we move on and leave all but the memories and knowledge be hind. Friends from younger grades do not move on yet, but let us lead the way. We've set many expectations for the class of '88 to live up to, and have broken all the rules that the class of '86 had set for us. We've grown close over the years and set our mark on Warren High, but now we each must move on alone

During the summer vacation before my freshman year at Warren High, I, like most adolescents, was rather apprehensive about starting high school. Back at West Middle we had heard all of the rumors concerning Warren's infamous teachers. For example, we had heard that Miss Busby was really a demonic goddess, forced by Satan to torture her innocent pupils and that every Halloween she flew back to Salem, Massachusetts on her broomstick. We also heard that every now and then, Mr. Rice mixed certain chemicals together and blew up Warren's east wing. We also heard that Mr. Allgood had a peculiar idiosyncrasy making his students memorize every line in every Shakespeare play. These rumors and many others contributed to my fears of high school and my loss of hair.

Surprisingly enough after entering Warren I discovered that only two of the aforementioned horror stories were true. Contrary to popular belief, Mr. Rice does not blow up his lab every now and then; he does it once a year. I also discovered that Warren had many positive influences on my life. For instance, friendships seem to multiply faster in high school than out of school, and although material things are fine, friends are the bottom line. It is in high school that I got my first taste of freedom when I was let loose upon an unsuspecting world with my freshly printed driver's license. I learned how to savor a victory in a football game and how to cope with rejection after a member of the opposite sex rejected my invitation to the dance. I learned how to respond and communicate with my community through Warren's various clubs. What I have done is not unique for every one of Warren's inhabitants has had at least one aspect of his life influenced by Warren High. During high school, we students plant our newly germinating seeds of life. The wide aspects that we will encounter in college life and then in business life. One can easily see that it is during high school that we establish our individual characteristics which will carry us through the various stages of our lives. For myself, I know that I will face my future confidently knowing that my Alma Mater has been the springboard to my destiny.

The hardest part of being a senior is knowing that it's an end. Graduation means an end to the relative safeness of mandatory education and a huge kick out into the big, bad world! Although I plan to spend part of my future time once more in the clutches of the educational society, I also expect to have a lot of quality time for career pursuit. For me, this means The Stage Auditions, casting calls, and all that scary stuff. It'll be enough to drive me to the torture of full-time college I'm sure!! However, I know it will be a lot easier for me to look forward when I have so much to look back on.

The education I've received in Drama throughout my four years at Warren will be instrumental to me in my dramatic future. All the members of the Warren High Drama Department have left a mark on me that I will carry with me throughout my career and also my life. In particular, my instructor and good friend Mrs. Jacquie Emerson will forever be an influence on me. Also will my best friends in Drama IV, Lalo, Ann Marie and Sean.

In return, I hope I have left a mark of my own upon this school with the production's I have starred in and been involved in. I feel the Drama Department is an important part of Warren High, and if not a great influence on the students, then certainly a great medium of entertainment for them! What else can I say?! Thanks everybody and "Break a leg" in whatever you do!

There are many students at Warren High School who have left their mark as an outstanding person. Although I may not be as outstanding as they, I feel I have accomplished many of my goals I set in high school. I was an above "c" average student, had many friends, and I did my share of work. But there is one thing that I believe I set a mark on. I was the first Korean to be on a varsity pep squad, namely Varsity Song.

Like many other girls, it was my dream to become a cheerleader. I tried many times before but never got picked. I believed it was especially hard for me because of my race. But I proved myself wrong and many others as well, when I got chosen. I was so proud being the first Korean and setting a mark so other Korean girls, who want to fulfill their little dream to become a cheerleader, may be encouraged to do so. Although it is not an outstanding scholastic or other academic achievement, it is a mark that I am proud to have set in high school

Dance
Team Revives

Dianna Farrugia shows Allison Odor and Trisha Lamarsna the color of her new eyeshadow.

The mark that I made on Warren High School is that I was a member of Warren High's first Dance Team. It was during my sophomore year, and the team started with 24 girls. We practiced hard all summer, from 7 to 10 in the morning. When our team went to camp in Santa Barbara, we did exceptionally well, considering we were a first year team. Performing at Friday night football games was a lot of fun. I was really nervous at first, but once I started dancing I forgot about all the people in the stands. The highlight of the Dance Team was when we placed first at a competition at Magic Mountain. When the announcer called out "and first place goes to Warren High School" the entire squad began screaming and crying. Everybody was so excited. Although we put in a lot of hard work, suffered through pulled muscles, and had many disagreements among us, being a member of Warren's first Dance Team will be one of the best memories I have of this school.

Goldfish Leaves Bowl

When I look back on my years spent here at Warren High memories flock back to me. I remember my first day. I was so very scared. It seemed as though I didn't even matter. I felt like a goldfish in an ocean. Things got better and soon enough I was a big time sophomore. During that year I had my first senior boyfriend. Although that was all well and good, my junior year was great. That year I got into school spirit and fun. Although my grades fell, I had fun trying to be better than the seniors. After what seems only a year I am finally what I have always been envious of, a senior. I do all the things I have watched my senior idols do. I go to all the activities and have fun. Now, I'm looking at my future with an excited nervousness. I can't wait to get on with my life. High school is the most important thing in my life right now. On into the future it will be my fondest memory.

Don't look so confused Jeff Erickson they really did call your name for Homecoming King nominees.

Fond memories, I'm sure will be treasured as I will look back in the future. The football games, the Homecoming dances, those crazy pep assemblies, and so much more. I could feel my heart sink as tears come to my eyes. I can't believe my high school years are coming to an end. I guess, the only thing I won't miss is that horrible school food. I'm sure I am going to miss those special friends. The ones I've grown up with since elementary school. Well guys, it's time we look straight ahead and achieve our goals as we live on. Don't look sad. We still have those school reunions ahead of us that will bring back those good o'l days.

Leaving Warren High School is going to be the saddest thing I have ever done. When I was a freshman, four years in high school seemed awfully long, but when I became a senior, I wondered how those years went by so fast.

When I was younger, I had my future planned. It was a fantasy. I had the whole world planned. But to my surprise, that plan was only a dream. A dream that would never come true. Now I'm older and I believe some of my wishes is not going to come true. One of my wishes was that the years of high school go so fast, but now I wish the years would go a little slower. Although, I seek for the future, the fulfillment of life, I find it hard to leave Warren High.

Off to college I go and now I have to face the future, the life I have waited for. Later, I will find out that life in college is more difficult. I have to struggle and compete with all the classmates. I can't fail in college, because there is no second chance.

Sometimes I wish I can start my high school years all over again to improve my grades and win more activities, but I can't change the past so it isn't something I should wish about. I shouldn't worry about the past, it is the future I should worry about.

A summer home on Catalina Island provides a hide-a-way in July for Lori Golay and Laura Brewer.

The thing I remember the most about my years here at Warren were the Pep assemblies. These assemblies brought new meaning to the games and the way they are played. I always enjoyed performing with the Band at the assemblies. Although I was giving up my lunch period, I didn't mind because I knew that the teams needed our support. Many other events have fond memories for me, such as the bands Winter and Spring concerts which give us a chance to show everyone that we can be civilized as well as rowdy. Another thing I will remember about Warren will be the friends I have made — those who are here and those who have gone — they have all made an impression on me even though they might never know it.

Dear Warren,

I'm really going to miss you next year! Who else could have gotten me up and around by 7:50 a.m. five days a week and kept my spirits alive until 2:35 p.m. Without you, I don't know where I would be. Through the years our involvement together has been great. Without your supportive teachers, counselors, and staff, I would not have learned all that I have and I would have had no one to go to with my problems and complaints. Through you, my alma mater, I established great friendships that can never be broken. I always have someone to talk to, and I thank you for that. I'm really proud to say that I'm part of Warren High School, the blue and gold school. Without the bears, who would I cheer for? Nobody! I've matured greatly because of you, and you'll always be special to me. I'm thankful to be part of your clubs. Without them, I would never have been given the chance to see what I could do for my fellow human beings. By being in the CSF cabinet through the years, I have learned much about leadership, especially by being president. You not only supported me on your campus, but you also prepared me for my future. Some of the happiest times of my life have been associated with you. As I said before, I'll miss you greatly, but I'll never forget you!

Once upon a time, precisely four years ago there was a freshman. In grammar school she feared she would never leave her mark on Warren High. She became an ordinary student only she was shorter than everyone else. Finally, she got her break. She joined yearbook in her junior year. But this still wasn't enough for this so called ordinary student. She felt she still had something to offer but didn't know what it was. Then the summer of her last year at Warren, it hit her. She decided to be on yearbook again but this time it would be different. She would not only be on staff, she would also be editor of a section. She became editor of the Senior Section of the Yearbook. This student is me.

I admit that two little bunches of numbers interspersed with various forms of punctuation do not stand out as singular, overwhelmingly significant marks left upon Warren High School. My number launches do have some value, however, they represent school records, one over the two-mile distance and the other over the three-mile distance.

I was burning, inside, to be able to reach the speed that would give me those records. I was working every day towards my goal: a SCHOOL RECORD. To set a SCHOOL RECORD seemed to be a real achievement, something that I would be proud to have accomplished. It was; I was.

The pride I felt taught me to set goals to reach for (Pavlov would be proud). So, while I was busy setting my "mark" on Warren High School, Warren High School was busy setting its mark on me, teaching me to find the drive and the desire to set and then strive towards my goals.

How do you leave your mark on a school? What are the special things you can do to be remembered? I came to Warren in the middle of my junior year, and was thrilled to find everyone I met so friendly and helpful. I hope everyone finds it as easy transferring as I did.

I am one of the many faces at this school I've done nothing special here. I go to school and support it in athletics, academics, I sing in the choir, and have even tried out for one of the squads.

If my face is forgettable, I'm not surprised. The many like me are important. We encourage our stars to shine as we step out of the light.

I have no special claim to fame, and I haven't left any significant marks here at Warren. I just hope after I graduate, the lessons in life as well as in school stay with me long after

Security Blanket Must Go

Someone once said, "Move out of life's safe and shallow places and venture forth into the depths." As high school graduation nears, I realize that I must let go of my security blanket and take those first few steps alone onto the path of independence. Although I'll be letting go of my family and the friends that I've gained throughout my high school years, my experiences with those people have indeed helped me dare to venture into the future and into the world that lies before me.

My individual development during high school is a blend of various accomplishments, from making new friends, to taking leadership roles, to volunteering my services to the community. These past four years have supplied me with new observations and understandings and a discovery of my inner nature. By tackling numerous obstacles, I have learned to be more open minded and have thus prepared myself for the various tasks that I will need to compete in college and in the real world later on. This preparation has helped me practice my responsibilities and my gift of giving from the heart. My future years in college will be a continuation of those in high school, for I must once again face new challenges and accept new ideas, but I will definitely have come out from my safe place and started on my way into the depths.

SADD

Cas Lambardo and Rosana Gibbs enjoy half time together

As I entered my senior year, and the end to my high school years slowly approached, I can reflect and see how much I've grown. Although I did not spend all my high school years here, Warren has left a mark on me that will remain with me wherever I go.

I have learned a great deal here at Warren, but most of my lessons were not taught in the classrooms. I have learned much about myself by learning about the people who "make-up" the rich mix of cultures here at Warren. I have learned to listen to others and share ideas with other people.

Feelings of hope and possible chances for a better future were awakened in me where I witnessed the student body form SADD in order to help each other and be concerned for someone else for a change.

Warren has left a set of new ideas, feelings and hope for a better future in me, and in turn, I have tried to contribute with my thoughts and feelings in hope that someone else has learned from me, as I have learned from them.

School Is Give And Take Time

Well it's the end of four years at Warren High. As I look back wondering what I've accomplished here besides an education, I begin to think of the people. I haven't done anything spectacular. I didn't break any school sports records, or win the spelling bee four years in a row, or even become ASB President. I've done nothing really to set myself apart, officially. However, I think that I've made some impression in the lives of the people I've met here, all the teachers, the administrators, and yes, even the students. After I graduate, I hope that someone will think back and say, "Yeah, I remember David Chun. Swell guy." or "That no-good, rotten %# @ *!!! or whatever, because the people are what really made high school a tolerable, all right, enjoyable experience. There are some whom I called "friend" but don't know anymore. Others who I wish I hadn't wasted three years not knowing. The bullies, the mentors, the teachers (not always academic), and the pupils. All making up that unique experience called "high school." It was a give-and-take relationship, ending up where we left a little of each of us in everyone we met. I just pray that by knowing me, someone out there was enriched a little. I know that I'll look back on these four years and think of all the friends I made and all the enlightening, enriching and/or just plain fun teachers I had. And I'll smile. I'm gonna miss you guys

It only seems like yesterday that we entered Warren High as 'little freshman.' We all tried to deal with that fact as best as we could. We were looked down by upper classmen, made fun of because we didn't dress right, and pushed further back in line during snack and lunch. But we look it all because we knew that one day, it would be our turn to be the big bullies. And the time has now come.

Here we are three years later, older and wiser and it is now our turn to dominate. We took advantage of everything, registering first, getting cuts in line and arriving late in the morning. But it is not to say that the last three years has been a total waste. We've all learned a great deal from our experiences here at Warren. We learn to make new friends, watch our peers mature into young adults, and learned to accept many responsibilities that come with maturity. We now look back at those "little freshman" and think back at how at one time we were just like them, unsure and naive. But that was then and this is now, and all that we've learned will be with us, now and forever.

One Big Roller Coaster Ride

Sweet memories, that is all that will be left of Warren High for me next year. This school has left a big impression on me that I will cherish for the rest of my life. I wasn't in any sports or clubs, but high school has been one big roller coaster ride. Just like a roller coaster, high school has its downs. There are the times when you have classes that seem to last an eternity and not a soul you know to spend it with, having a collection of tardies due to the fact that every time you open your locker, an avalanche occurs. I think the one that tops it all is walking into the wrong classroom and feeling your face heat up like hot coals. It also has its ups. All of the football games and everyone gathering at McDonalds after our victory or defeat, the pep assemblies at lunch (which only a handful participate in). Trying to get a note from one side of the room to another, while the teacher is lecturing has been a challenge for everyone at one time or another. High school has been one of the greatest experiences in my life, but I'm sure there are many more to come my way.

There's no better feeling than when you're being complimented on a

Job Well Done

From the start of my high school years, many things have helped me strive to achieve great recognition. One of the most important things was the thought of being a Seal-bearer. Most students think that being a Seal-bearer is just being called first at graduation while wearing a golden rope across their shoulders. My perception of this is very different.

To be given the honor to sit first at graduation and wear those golden ropes, I had to work hard, but I'm proud of it. To put it plainly, it's a wonderful feeling to have such great recognition. This has given me a feeling of honor, respect, and most important-

"This has given me a feeling of honor, respect and most importantly PRIDE!"

ly, pride

All the long and tedious hours of work and studying are well worth it! Not only will I receive recognition for this today, in high school, but also tomorrow in college, where a good reputation is well needed. There's no better feeling than when you're being complimented on a job well-done. By being called a Seal bearer, I couldn't possibly be given a better compliment!

Disaster Strikes Close To Home

On the morning of Sunday, August 31, 1986, at around 11:56 a.m. An AeroMexico DC-9 jetliner flying into Los Angeles collided in Midair with a small plane over Cerritos killing eighty-two people. There were 15 people killed on the ground, 64 passengers on Flight 498, and 3 people on the piper. Los Angeles County Fire Department, rushed to put out the flames, while 29 ambulances and 7 helicopters rushed victims from the disaster area to the high school gym. It was the worst air disaster in the Los Angeles County history.

Radar reports show the planes collided at an altitude between 6,200 to 7,000 feet. The crash occurred 30 miles southeast alone Cerritos, near the Orange County Line.

The DC-9 crashed into homes on Holmes Ave. and Ashworth Place near the Carmenita Road off ramp of the Artesia Freeway. Sixteen homes were destroyed or damaged by the flaming wreckage of the fuselage, trapping residents inside

Press Telegraph

With a burst of orange flames and black smoke, the jetliner, its tail knocked off, exploded into a tract of modest stucco homes. The piper, the top of its cockpit slices off, came down a half-mile away in the ball field behind Cerritos Elementary School.

The Archer Piper 2, a four seat, propeller-driven craft, landed upside down, its three passengers dead inside. The Piper was not under radar control and had not communicated with anybody in the area.

Bon Appitite At Mimi's

The grand opening of an exquisite cafe was held at the end of August, 1986. This quaint new place is Mimi's Cafe, the 8th one to open in Southern California.

Prior to its opening 300 girls and boys were interviewed and of those, 90 were chosen to become Mimi's waitresses, hostesses, and busboys. The lucky new employees trained three weeks before the opening.

Mimi's is a place to go with friends and family. It provides an elegant touch of France, with its pastel colors and unique atmosphere.

No need for tipping the hostess this time, everyone gets a seat to their liking at Mimi's. Those who like a breath of fresh air, may relax and enjoy their outdoor patio.

Not only does Mimi's have ambiance, but it also has first class international cuisines. Their menu ranges from hamburgers to mahi-mahi.

Mimi's Cafe was constructed in the summer of 86'. It is one of the newest addictions to Downey's fine restaurant's.

No reservations needed for a delightful dinner at Mimi's! Be sure though to at least arrive a little earlier than planned, because everyone will be there to enjoy their yummy food. Bon Appitite!

The Plane That Went Around The World

On December 1986 at Edwards Air Force Base in California. Two pilots, Dick Yeager and Jeana Yeager made aviation history. They traveled 26,000 miles without stopping and loading fuel.

The Voyager was designed by Dick's brother, Burt. The aircraft weighed less than 2,000 pounds and the highest speed is 120 miles per hour. It carries 7,000 pounds of fuel in 17 different tanks.

During lift off, the winglets were dragging on the ground because there was not enough speed to raise them. The winglets were almost ripped off and the fuel tanks would have been exposed. Burt radioed in to tell Dick to sideslip the Voyager so that the airflow would break the winglets off. The ground crew were happy to learn that it had severed off cleanly and not destroyed the fuel tank. Dick Rutan, 48, is an ex-fighter jock and Jeana Yeager, 43 is experienced in small craft flying. While one was in the pilot's seat the other sat wedged on the floor beside the pilot. They traveled across the oceans without any of the aid of back up equipment that is standard on other aircrafts. They feared that the supply of fuel would not be enough. They even went through a typhoon.

The Voyager was built by the Rutan brothers' and Yeager, and took 5 years to build. It had consumed $2 million in parts, a price tag Dick joked would have been $400 million if a Pentagon contractor had built it on a cost-plus and overtime basis. We are estatic to know that the Voyager was a success.

Two Deadly Diseases Strike Society

On October 2, 1985, Liberace was diagnosed as having ARC-a serious stage of the AIDS virus infection. After the 67 year old star was told that he had tested positive for the ARC virus, he made several visits to Valley Hospital.

Liberace believed that Rock Hudson is remembered as a Homosexual and not for the good things that he did. He didn't want to be remembered for AIDS, but rather for the accomplishments he made.

Liberace announced on September of 1985, that he was taking time off from performing, but in the month of March 1986, he took the stage. After doing so he went into seclusion at his Palm Springs home. He past away in the first of the year.

This disease has become like the Black Plague of the 80's. Even though many more Homosexuals have contacted the disease it is not just Homosexuals that get it. More and more Heterosexuals are contacting the disease. The scariest fact about AIDS is that, as of yet there is no cure for it, but doctors are still working towards finding one.

Crack Rock Cocaine is another deadly "disease" hitting the American society. It is not a physical or mental disease but is an addiction. Many people find that by using this drug they can escape reality for a short time. After a first use the temptation for another try becomes overpowering and soon.

One of the largest problems with this drug is its strength. For it is not just normal cocaine, it is much more powerful as Len Bias' death can attest.

On Saturday, November 15 and Sunday, November 16, The Miss Downey Pageant was held by the 33rd annual Downey Rose Float Association. The Miss Downey Pageant was held at the Downey Civic Theatre. From all these 30 beauties, there were only 11 finalist: Angie Shatynski, Kim Cooper, Esmeralda Arriola, Paula Alexander, Sandra Tomczak, Erin Ferguson, Monica Garcia, Gina D'Amore, Paige Lannom, Amelia David, and Anita Burke.

-I Burke

I asked one of the finalist, Amelia David, to tell me how she knew about the pageant and if she could tell what the pageant was like. She stated the following: "I was informed about the Miss Downey Pageant from my sister Patricia. She encouraged me to participate, actually, she insisted I participate. It was a nice experience through which I met a lot of nice, energetic girls. The practices were fun but tiring. We all learned something valuable from each other. I got the

Out With The Old And In With The New

After 30 years the Warren High Marque that had stood on Paramount Boulevard was replaced with a new Marque with an internal lighting system. The Marque was donated by the Bingo Club and paid for from funds that they had collected. The Marque was installed during the fall semester and will now be able to display a message that can be seen even at night.

This is but one area that the Monday Night Bingo fund raisers have helped to support. They also have supported many of the sports teams by supplying them with money to purchase equipment. The band and the pep squad also benefit from their support, allowing them to buy equipment and uniforms.

Recently the Gymnasium was equipped with computer controlled scoreboards, and the front office was carpeted.

Lady Liberty Makes It To 100 Years.

July 4, 1986 celebrated the 100th anniversary of the opening of the statue of liberty. The celebration was a culmination of 5 years of renovation and rejuvenation in hopes that it will be around another 100 years.

The celebration was put on by the city of New York, and produced by veteran producer David Wolper. The celebration was an all day party complete with fireworks, music and celebrities, including President Regan who was given the honor of throwing the switch that lit the statue while the whole world watched. The statue was rebuilt using private donations under the watchful eyes of Lee Iaccoca.

The statue is a symbol of American freedom. It was the first sign of hope that greeted the immigrants at the turn of the century as they arrived in America. They came to the United States to begin a new life and stayed to build a foundation that we as descendants now stand upon to reach for our dreams

The statue was cleaned on the outside of 100 years of soot and the internal structure was replaced with stainless steel. The torch was redone and the flame was covered in gold leaf.

How Do You Spell Iran-Contra? Oops!

In early November after a Lebanese news magazine claimed that the U.S. had secretly sold weapons to Iran in exchange for the release of American hostages held in Lebanon. What seemed at first to be merely a foreign policy blunder soon reached the proportions of a major scandal when in December Attorney General Edwin Meese disclosed that some of the profits from the Iranian arms deal had been secretly channelled to the contra rebels who are fighting to bring down the Marxist Sandinista government of Nicaragua. In 1984, Congress had banned aid to the contras, any involvement by the U.S. government to directly or indirectly provide funds to the rebel forces would be in violation of the law. The diversion of profits from the Iran arms sales took place during a period when the ban on contra aid was still in effect. According to the press and Congressional investigators, between $50 and $100 million worth of arms were sent to Iran, although the administration claims it was $12 million. Under the Arms Export Control Act, all commercial arms sales must be licensed by the State Department, any shipment of more than $14 million has to be cleared by the Department of Defense, and the President has to inform Congress of any sale over $14 million. The Export Administration Act prohibits the sale of goods to states such as Iran who allegedly sponsor terrorism. A fact that the President and his advisors evidently forgot.

John Poindexter

Lt Col Oliver North

Stars And Stripes Sails To Victory

In February of 1987 Dennis Conner and his boat Stars and Stripes sailed to victory over the Australians and their boat Kookaburra III to win back the America's cup. The race was held off the coast of Fremantle, Australia. Conner, who lost the cup to the Australians and their skipper Alan Bond in 1983, became the first American skipper to both lose the cup and win it back in the 132 year history of the cup.

To reach the finals, Stars and Stripes had to defeat the strong New Zealand team boat, Kiwi Magic in the semi-finals and one of the other U.S. boats in the quarter-finals. Stars and Stripes was state of the art technology and this allowed it to defeat the Kookaburra III by a wide margin in each race of the best of seven series. Stars and Stripes won the America's Cup 4-0.

When the last race was completed the crews of both boats brought them back to shore for a victory celebration that lasted most of the night. The entire harbor of Fremantle was ringed with people congratulating both crews. There was also a celebration in San Diego, the home port of S & S when Denis Conner and crew brought the Cup back to the United States.

The Australians all said that they would be back to challenge for the next race. Who knows they might just win it back.

Roar Of The Crowd

Extra-curricular activities at Warren include the various sports teams. These teams allow students to learn to work together. Each member of the team forms a close bond with the other team members.

The hours of practice are not always "all work and no play." Some days team members bring soft drinks or other treats for all the team. Also, before a competition team members often get together to "psych up."

Practice hours do not go unnoticed. The summer afternoons spent practicing instead of lazing in the sun at the beach. The Saturday afternoon that you wanted to go out with friends but couldn't. The perfect job that you gave up in order to play your sport. These are just a few examples of the many commitments that go along with playing sports. But whether the team wins or loses, it all pays off in the end by the friendships you have gained.

Brian Strathemeyer is just one player who knows that all the time put into practicing is worth it. He will have various memories of the days spent out on the field but none will be as strong as

The roar of the crowd as the team enters onto the field shakes the stands as if an earthquake was hitting Downey. The lights of the stadium bouncing off the players' helmets and catching your eye. By this time, you are so into the game that you won't calm down until the game finally comes to an end. When Warren scores thousands of people jump up and down waving their hands. As the roar of the crowd echos the stadium, the players clinch each other and spike the ball in excitement. Then moments before Warren is to kick off, the roar of the crowd starts up again along with a chant of "Go Go Go." "Then, boom, the ball goes way back and is received by the visiting team. Suddenly the crowd calms down and awaits for a victory by their team.

Lady Bears Push for that last mile

The JV and Varsity girls' country team has again captured another reward in the competition. Last year, the JV team from Warren was the champion at La Mirada. Last year, the JV team were the winners. Carrie Edgeworth, Lynette Rahn, and Anna Brewer were the top three members of the team. Jennifer Johnson and Jennifer La Mirada. All in all the Warren Varsity Cross Country on Friday was very rewarding.

The JV team was followed by Warren. The JV team from the Varsity team is the second best team from last year for the past two years. Varsity team Varsity champions.

At the start of the race, the JV team put forward the most effort. The player went to the front. The most inspirational went to Carrie Edgeworth and the most improved went to Lynette Rahn. The award Lynette Rahn was the most improved.

For the JV team rewards went to Carrie Edgeworth and the most improved player Nicki Till. Lynette Rahn improved. Congratulations to both team and the coaches. Go Lady Bears! Good way to victory.

Cross Country takes third place in stride

This season in Cross Country was very competitive. All the schools in the San Gabriel Valley were very good this year. Warren did very well even though we finished 3rd this season.

Cross Country has had a tough training season. It started in the summer with workouts, Monday thru Friday. Toward the end of the summer, Warren, Lakewood, and Brethren went up to Big Bear Mountains to do some hill training. For a week we sweated, strained and finally pulled together to complete our hill training.

When school started, Warren was in shape and ready to go. With training of 5 to 10 miles a day we did very well during the season. With only two losses (Paramount and Downey) Warren was a competitive team.

At league finals, Warren, team-wise, finished third. The league champion was Dave Zauala with Scott Edgeworth finishing a close 6th. Last years league champion would have finished 8th in this years race. This shows that this year was a better year for competition.

This year may have been a very fast season, but with all the training we had over the summer, and the school year, Warren did very well.

This volleyball season was very competitive. We competed against teams that went all the way to the California State Championship.

Varsity started off slow, but came back in the end with a strong team that played exceptionally well against Downey and Paramount. Even though we did not have a winning season, all the summer days spent practicing paid off through the friendships gained and the competitions fought.

At the banquet M.V.P. went to Susie Poppin, Most Inspirational to Kristen Wathon, Most Improved to Hilda Cano, and the coach's award went to Catherine Cramp.

The I.V. team started off smoking and kept on igniting throughout the season. After many hours of hard work and the dedicated coaching of Mr. Andrews they finished second in league.

Also at the banquet, the M.V.P award went to Nancy Tolmachoff ind Tanya Shubin, Most Improved went to Lucy Woodards, Most In spirational went to Susie, and the coach's award went to Jay

Both teams trained hard, together like a family. We would like to give many thanks to Coach Tom Stoner and Coach Doug Andrews who spent many long hours training us all that they could. Thanks and the best of luck wished for Coach Stoner who will be retiring from coaching.

Water Polo combines the skill of swimming with rigors of soccer to produce a very unique, competitive sport. Each team consists of 7 players, 6 in the field and 1 in the goal. The idea is to swim the ball to the other side of the pool and shoot for a score. Because all players are both defensive and offensive, extensive swim training is required. Also ball handling is greatly stressed during practice in order to enhance the teams effectiveness during the games. This years water polo team practiced an average of 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours a day and participated in over 16 games and 2 tournaments.

The Frosh-Soph and JV teams did beary well this year, especially considering that "stand-out" sophomore Tim Brown was moved up to play Varsity. Kenny Bond, Richard Chapin, and goalie-Kurt Bea son led the Frosh team while Chris Sanchez and goalie and Sean Mcquire were some of the outstanding players on the JV team. Both teams ended their seasons with impressive records and acquitted themselves well in league.

The Varsity team while falling into somewhat of a slump during league, had a very good off-season record of 8-2. Eric Grossman broke the high scoring record with 120 goals and was elected and was elected MVP of the league

The Basketball teams look very promising this year. With coach Young coaching the Varsity team, Coach Carter coaching the J.V. team, Coach Hunter coaching the Sophomore team, and Coach Belladella coaching the Freshman team, the teams should be very competitive to their opponents. The teams practice everyday in order to better their skills and do their very best in game situations. The teams should have a very good season this year.

The Girls Varsity Team has done better this year. It could be because of the new coach, Kathy George.

The girls practiced very hard before the season started. The girls would practice two nights a week from 4:30 pm to 7:30 pm. and the rest of the week they would practice from 6 period to about 4:00 pm. They did a lot of running and a lot of ball handling and passing drills. The long practices paid off.

The girls went to tournaments during their preseasn play. Warren was considered the "underdog," but came to life and captured a fifth place in the HH Wilson tourney, and won the cancellation round at South good pre-season, they won 12 games and only lost 4.

The girls started league off by winning their first three games. Their winning streak was stopped by the "Ducks." Then the girls traveled to Gahr and Lynwood to lose against them also. They were 3 and 3 at the end of their first round of play.

The girls started off the second round of play by beating Paramount. Then, they lost a tough game against Dominguez. Two players out of the starting were unable to play. Then the girls lost to Gahr and Lynwood.

The girls have a chance to go to CIF. Even if they don't, they're very happy with all the winnings that they have had.

The girls will have a very strong team next year. Meaghan Clark is the only Sr. on the whole team, and most of the other girls are juniors and they have three Soph.

The girls have high expectations for next year's season. They have a chance to go to CIF as 3rd place in S.G.V. League.

"We are hoping to open the eyes of some people during the season," states one varsity player.

The team is being coached by Dave Laughlin, who has coached the J.V. teams over the past years. Coach Laughlin has high expectations for the team, and plans on being in the playoffs. The team also believes in this goal, and spends many dedicated hours practicing.

The team is a combination of seniors, juniors, and sophomores.

Although the team is a mixture of age groups, the players ignore this fact and work together very well, and the credit cannot be given to the players, however, Coach Laughlin is actually the "brains" behind the machine. Overall, the varsity soccer team expects to be one of the best Warren has ever seen, and also hopes to have a great time during their quest for their goal.

The J.V. team has also set out to gain victory. They are being led by Coach Currie. He has taught the team many things along with the value of team commitment.

In unison with the two fantastic coaches and the high hopes of the team members this season, should turn out to be a great success.

Grapplers Gear Up!

The Warren Wrestling Team had another successful season under the leadership of Coach Comes. The varsity team won dual meets and only lost 7. They ended the season taking third place in league.

One of the years highlights was the teams trip to Hawaii to wrestling in the Iolani Tournament where they ended up being the consolation champions.

Outstanding individuals on this years team were the two captains, Mark Velko and Erik Thureson.

The junior varsity wrestling team took 2nd place in league. Outstanding individuals were team captains, Bob Nagel and Guillermo Carrasco.

The Warren High School Wrestling future looks very bright as they have Vince Quampo, Jim Mauritho and Kevin Rooney returning as well as many individuals, who with hard work shall develop into outstanding wrestlers.

BOYS VOLLEYBALL BEGINS WITH PROMISE

A new sport has hit campus this year. In previous years the guys rarely were allowed the chance to play volleyball, but not anymore. Under the excellent coaching of coach Hyatt and coach Combs a Varsity and Junior Varsity team has been made. The boys practice long hard hours to get in shape for their season games. While playing a sport long deprived from them, the team members form lasting friendships.

We hope this new team does well this season and in the future!

Girls Varsity swimming is having a good year. Although we lost a couple of our veteran swimmers, we've made up with volume from last years JV swimmers moving up to Varsity, so our team has a lot of experience. Our workouts, which extend daily to about 3:30 pm., help us build up our endurance, with pulling and kicking laps, and sprints. The practice has shined through to our meets, ALL, but two of which we've won! By April our league opponents, which are Whitney, Cerritos, Gahr, and Downey should watch out for some pretty tough competition!

Softball? You've got to be kidding! It's just the greatest sport on earth, and when you talk Warren Varsity softball-well the record might not show it but we're simply awesome. We're family.

Our coach "Mom" Alles: she's tops! Nobody's better. Talk about tough and caring all at the same time. All those days of endless running in temperatures of 80+ for screwing up during practice-are memories which won't easily be forgotten. Every day we went over those fundamentals: hitting, fielding, and throwing. Sometimes we wondered if the back to basics movement was necessary-until our next game.

Ah! But we had fun, huh? On defense/we were nine strong with Amanda on the mound and Paula behind the plate. Reggie taking care of third. Diane and Karen trading off at short stop, Angie at second, and Napua holding down first-our infield was magic. Of course our outfield wasn't so bad either-and they were always playing "musical positions" sometimes Catherine would command center field, sometimes left field. Then there was Tammy, Liz, Sandy, and Crystal everywhere else. We never had an identity.

positions we would be playing

On offense well in practice we were awesome, and it took a while for our bats to look as good in a game. At least we have a major goal for next year set already. Although we'll be minus some of our family members-Cat and Di are saying good-bye-we'll still be a strong team. Hard work and dedication will see to that and so will "mom" alles!

She brought a whole new set of ideas with her when she took over. Being united on and off the field, in shape, and mentally tough were what kept us striving for the best. Someday we'll get there-until then take another loop and when you finish that, line up on the line-we're gonna do some sprints!

Although I have never worked with any other team at Warren before, I know I am qualified to say that Warren's varsity baseball has to be one of the most inspirational and dedicated teams around.

With Scott's constant '...', cheers, Davids grand slams, ... jokes, and the great contribution of each and every player, it didn't take long to understand why this team worked together so well.

It's hard to imagine how I never even watched a school baseball game, let alone wanted to, before I started taking stats for the boys; I don't even know what possessed me to volunteer myself, but I am thankful that I did. I can't even explain the great pride I felt each time one of "my boys" did well, or how bad I felt when we made an error. But whether we won or we lost, we did it together.

And guys, thanks for all the help with stats; that in itself shows y'all must have a lot of talent! Thanks for all the good times; I know that being a Varsity Stat girl will definitely be one of my most memorable Warren memories.

Best Of Luck In The Future!!!

love,

Julie Selt

'It's Time To Take That Step'

The time has now come
For us to graduate
Old doors close, new doors open.
It was worth its long wait
The journey to this day
Has been long and rough
But we stuck it out
When times got tough
The times have not all been difficult
Because we have had friends
The fun, the laughter, and the memories
Will never end
Think back to fingerpainting
And learning to print
Handwriting, cooties,
Tantrums and fits
Learning to add, subtract
Multiply and divide
Using apples, oranges
And pieces of a pie.
Fractions came along,
Only to complicate our days.
We never knew that problems
Could be solved in so many ways.
We have learned the history of our nation
And all about politics
Now that we think of it
All has happened too quick.
It is time to face the world.
And the future that awaits you.
It is time to take that step.
Walking into something new
All of these years
Full of teachers and tests
Friendship and caring
These years are the best
Class of '87.
We are finally here.
We are better than the best
And this is our year!

I wish everyone the best of luck and success in whatever future you decide to pursue. HAPPY GRADUATION!!! We've finally made it! Love ya,

Student body ads personalize your book and give your memories

A Place To Roam.

Our advertising section is split into two sections. One is advertisements for businesses, corporations, along with, residents of Downey, and Parents. We would like to thank these people for supporting our yearbook and its publication fees

Our main goal for this yearbook was to reach out to our Student Body and give them the opportunity to leave a message, or bid a good friend good-bye. It gave them the chance to end the year in their yearbook with your input. We accomplished this great task. This year's Student Ads section was the most successful ever with a total of about 85-90 personal messages & pictures of our closest friends that we have established throughout the years here at Warren. Our main point of interest was not to make a profit, but to instead charge the minimum price to be able to pay for the pages on which they are printed

We are very happy with the obvious success of this section. We hope that this tradition that has been resumed will continue long after we are gone. We would like to thank the Student Body for taking such an overwhelming interest and participating in this effort. We hope you enjoy your personalized section now and in the years to come

Mr. Rudy is typical of our supporters.

M. RUDY

Our section was one of the hardest because of the time it takes to get everything organized. We would like to thank our students, and local business's for there participation in this section

Hey Sexy Man! What a 2 years it's been! Can u believe it all started right here, in 10th grade. The late night phone parties, swimming at my house, picking up toilet paper, homecoming Prom, all our beach trips, parties, X-mas, fishing, Beastie Boyz, maiden camp, dancing, Knotts, being flower children, the toad, watching you surf in the rain, the motorcycle accident, bullfrogs, storage room workouts, being champion ship boxers, making Barrios bleed along with lots of others, cake fight, our rings. All our cheer Names, and so much more. You've made me so happy! I'll always love you now and forever! You are so special to me! Thank you for being my best friend! I love you cheeze monkey, Mr. hunk y! All my love, Weil girls! We Made it! Our Year - 1987 - has come !! Who ever thought our high school years would come and go so quickly?! Together we have gone thru so much! OK-OK! So we have had our share of tears and fights with one of our "Best Friends" - But Hey! we made it! And with so many more great times than bad! Never forget: Toasting the end of our 'last summer' at M.M.'s bat? No! We're just here to take pictures! But nothing could beat Szechuan! Painting our lockers, (or was it every locker - BUT ours!) All our football games where we were entertained by our cheerleaders: Miss, Pen & Deb! After game dances & parties! Dick's party? - or Lance's? Hattattau - PSYCH! Alex's Pre-Party - Ana & Tate serving us! Homecoming game & nite! "Debbie, meet George - George this is Debbie!" - Penny - were you able to take pictures this year? - "Miss - do you remember H.C. at all?" "Neen How icing did that Hangever last?" "Ouchie! Would you mind pulling Julie's dress up - a tad?" "Alex! Where's Erik?" "Shan - which one is your date?" What a team we are! Warren 22 -

Dawn,

... we have a lot left to do now and I'd like to thank you for your memorandum of such a welcome visit quit yet. That's the worst ~~way~~ is to be gone when you're here. I'm glad that you will be here again next year.
It would be a pleasure to have you stay with us again and get together. I hope you have good luck as a senior, and I wish you all the best for a great summer, keep smile on your face and (keep flipping those hamburgers),
I'll see you people next year.
See ya!

Love ya,

All the people I've met so far to date
I tell them that we're going to be the best friends ever, but after a few days they're gone, and I'm left alone. When I come home at the weekend, I just try to forget about it because it's not about me to write art and draw but out of all the people I have met, you're still your bud, I

In this busy world full of small talk and relationships that come and go, the lasting friendship you and I have is very rare ... I've met many special people, but somehow you seem to stand out from everyone else ... You bring just the right touch of warmth and laughter into my life, and the longer we're friends the more I find that you're not only the best friend I have You're the BEST FRIEND I could ever want! BEST FRIENDS FOREVER!!

Best Friends 4-Ever

Goodbye Warren High
We love U!
Watch out world —
here we come!
Class of 1987-Ever!

Karen, 12 yrs of being Best Friends we sure have been through a lot! Both good times & bad. Remember when we first met in the 4th grade & now we're here & we are as crazy as ever. Let's not forget about all the fun times we have had like: Sleep overs, movie picnics, Crystal Lake, Jason, gummy worms, hair bows, 103.7, Salvage, weepies, San Diego 83, sea world, shampoo mine, Marauder Jeff, Leon the crazy man. All our P.E. Days we'd see Mr. Crazypants. All aboard meet us at the cab no 1000 Queen St. Take me home, Gloria, Flipper, we don't bite! The magical P.E.I. Happy New yr with the dawn, How did that hole get in my window? I wonder, my decorations, curse, mush, I'm gonna be married in 88! Your old Ralph Beach every weekends, twirlabouts, the moon, moonless, what's her name? Disneyland, The goat! Picture booth 4th of July! See our happy little birds your the bestest friend I could ever have - even in my life!
PS: July 4th '80! I still think you like a sis & always will! I love you both very much!

ANNA, my cousin; we've been through so much in our almost 18 years and now we are graduating together and entering the real world-Scary. You are the sister I never had, I know our views on things are quite different but we always seem to respect each others opinions no matter what. Remember; skiing, 8th grade grad, Fresno's, Homecoming, guys,guys... matching outfits-oh shhh, calling each other on Christmas morn. at dawn. and more. See you at a Birt.party. I'm sure. I Love you Cous, Sis; — love Terri

Cathie, The past year has been the best by far. The times we spent together will always be remembered. January 3, Bobby McLean, The Beach Boys, Inosplitz, Sadie, Sweethearts Ball, Disneyland - HOOTER!! Merry, the shot of Greg, All the times together were the best. Cathie - you're the world to me. No words can describe how I feel. I'll love you always  Jeff.

Gee-Bee & Bee-J

Friends Forever: Gosh member,.... going by the gas station a hundred times. (Chevron) or spyen and laughing so hard we'd get sick, or pushen the car to the corner and peeken around. what about seeing that skunk on Ronnie's front porch. And that times we stayed out all night when we stayed at Jan's! Or what about bowlen "Do it for you know who" what about stoppen the car where ever we were at and getting out and danceen to "When I think of you" Or you getting to my house ready to go out and me not having anything to wear, or frozen in the car when you had your windows down.HA-HA.

Or what about the car chases-the Dukes of Hazard Boy we've had some pretty wild ones member the one were the guys had a mummy in the back of the car! That was funny. member the 4x4 truck when we thought we ditched them and it was a dead end.

Well we've had some pretty wild & crazy experiences and they have'nt ended yet. Next year is going to be a blast!

Class of 27

Lynn, I'm glad we've been such good friends! I think it was our relationship that made us friends - even though I still cannot understand your misapprehension. We've grown up a lot - mentally, physically, the night we last met was too tickled, she turned me over, she was tickled, the guys - it's like, I don't know, stuffed animals, poems, shuffled papers, like ride-when-in-a-bit, like you, Pacific Deli, games, roller coasters, Windy Beach hangs, sandcastles, Finals at Belmont Day, Teddy bears, pinatas, etc., planning the tour for other things.

Dear fruitpie, we've grown together as an unseperable bond. I can remember our 1st kiss, our 1st dance, and all our special times together. I cherish them all; especially Homecoming "85". I'm looking forward to our future and all our dreams we've talked about. I want to thank you for making these last 3 years the best.

I Love you ver!

The image shows a young girl with short, light-colored hair, smiling warmly at the camera. She has a joyful expression and is wearing a dark-colored top. Her hair is styled in a simple, flat-top or crew cut. The background is plain and light-colored, making her the central focus of the photograph.

Pon. Congratulations to a fine son and brother. Your whole family is proud of you. We will always remember your High School years in the school band and the happiness you have brought to us. Congratulations on your newest Fire Explorer achievement. We can not wait to see you as a full-fledged Fireman.

Love.

▲ The Varsity Football team gathers to yell their chant and arouse enthusiasm from the crowd.

► "Yes mom school is out-come and pick me up!"

◀ Laurel Rigney bids a last farewell to her underclass friends.

The bear as our mascot is Cuddley as a teddy

As I hold and squeeze my Teddy Bear
I know he's one who really cares
He's soft and cuddley and full of joy
I sometimes wonder if its a girl or boy
Cute, innocent and full of love.
He's like the sign of peace which is a white dove
He's always there and tells no lies
He hears your whispers, laughs and cries.
"Warren High" will always care
Thats why our mascot is the Bear.

by-Jennifer Peffer

► Bears prepare for the fun in the sun and say "good-bye" to the long school days!

Turn For Memories

Time has come to say goodbye to the school year of 86-87. So much we have been through together has come to an end. Fond memories of the days past will last forever.

Seniors move on in various directions, some on to college, others go into the business world. Days of the youthful carefree spirit are finished. The time to face the future has come upon us.

Faculty and Administration either look forward to a new year filled with new faces or step away to enjoy the rest of their life doing other work. They have each helped us along the way and we thank them.

The underclassmen move up another rung on the high school ladder as they become Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores. They have yet another year to enjoy the close nit bonds of high school.

"The best days of your life."

friendships, Downey Warren rivalries, school dances and academic projects. Enjoy the time you have left here; they can be "The best days of your life".

As we each move on to another year, none should do so with regret. Hope and anxiety should be felt for what the future holds in store. We have shared good times and bad.

Winning Downey vs Warren football game and then coming down with laryngitis from screaming too much.

Leaving specific notes for a substitute and then coming back the next day to find that one of the students hid the notes so the class did nothing.

These and many more are ours alone. We have taken the school year of 86-87 and turned it into something special to find that "We Were Not Just Passin' Thru".

▼ Lisa Sheppard, Donya Miller, Lori Hern, and Kaye Kim help each other finish their last homework assignment for the year.

▲ A group of friends gather for lunch and decide that next year they won't have mom make their lunches.

Steve Davis lets us all know that he is ready for the summer. ▶

▲ Mike Hasley pulls another funny face for his friends

▼ Priss excitedly anticipates the great taste of our cafeteria's salads

▲ Paige Francis tries to explain what she is eating to her friends but they can't stop laughing

► Tom Johnson and Bruce Yung leave Warren and never return to the Snow Ball

◀ Bruce Machado tries to prove to us that RAT burgers are the best

The experience of this place will be with us always as we look back on

The Memories

Memories are more than a misty mornin'.
They are the times spent within.
Learning life's mysteries and wonders.

Memories are days of love and life experienced for the first time
Never to be known again.
Except as memories.

Yet while we experience the stuff, that is to become what we will know.
What we know now is that.
We are Not Just Passin' Thru

◀ 'So long — I'll see ya around!' is Brian Young's last comment as he heads off to graduation.

▼ We all share memories of joining in pep assemblies.

Colophon: We're Not Just Passin' Thru

This is the EL OROSO's 31st edition. Its theme, "We're Not Just Passin' Thru" was decided on by the Warren High yearbook staff and editors. There are 288 pages and 1200 copies were run through the press. It covers the time frame of September 1986 through March 1987. The cost to students was $30 in September, and this price was raised to $40 in June.

The cover was designed by the editors, and was printed on Blue Shadows material with gold foil used for artwork with other specification being blind embossed.

Photographs were taken by El Oroso staff photographers and other students. Senior portraits and Underclass ID pictures were taken by Pace Studios. Football team and band pictures were taken by Tury photographers. Current Event photos were provided by the Associated Press.

Layouts were designed by Carol Robles and Section Editors. Copy was written by Polly Doyle, staff members, and Warren High Students. All copy was type set by using Jostens Typography books.

Dawn,
Only one more year and we'll be seniors, oh how I just want out of this place. I'm glad that we've got to be friends hopefully this summer we'll get to be better friends!

Dawn,
I'm very glad that I met you this year. Thank for talking to me and sometimes helping me with my work. You're a great person. Thank for the ride to work that one day. I like walking. I'll probably bump into during the summer at McDonald's or someplace crazy. Have a great summer and call me
